Town Council Meeting

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday 2nd, inst.

The Councillors present were Mayor H. W. Chambers, P. R. Reed, S. T. Arlenson and G. A. Wrigglesworth.

A communication was received from the Didsbury Tennis Club requesting the assistance of the Council in beautifying an touch as possible the C. P. R. Park, which at present is somewhat of an eyesore.

Councillors P. R. Reed and G. A. Wrigglesworth were appointed a committee to act in conjunction with the Tennis Club and all townspeople interested in making this Park worthy of the Town.

A Petition was presented by a majority of the shopkeepers requesting that a By-Law be passed putting into force the Wednesday half holiday. This will commence on the 1st of June and remain in force until the 1st of September.

It was decided to have the Business Tax collected as soon as possible owing to the urgent necessity of obtaining financial assistance. A discount of 5 per cent will be allowed on Business tax paid before 1st of June, and it is hoped that ratepayers will make a special effort to pay their taxes as soon as possible.

The Solicitor reported that he had not yet heard from the Minister of Municipal Affairs giving his approval of the petitioners, with the C. and E. Townships Company and the disposal of the lands in question had to be left in abeyance.

Several properties which have recently come into the Town's hands through Tax Enforcement proceedings will in the near future be offered for sale by public auction.

Other business of a routine nature was transacted.

Merchants Decide to Close Wednesday Afternoons

A meeting of the merchants of Didsbury was held on Wednesday morning and it was decided that all business places will be closed on Wednesday afternoons from 1 o'clock commencing May 18th and continuing until September 1st. It is to be hoped that the buying public will exonerate themselves accordingly as to allow the business men and his employee a few hours of leisure during the week.

Women's Institute Will Hold Unique Meeting

A unique meeting something new will be held by the Didsbury Women's Institute on Saturday, May 4th, when they will entertain the grand fathers and grandmothers. Hard hats for men have gone out of fashion, but the heads continue as adamant as ever.

The Hon. Manning Doherty has declined the position of minister of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers Ltd. at a salary of $12,000 per year.

L. S. Klinek, of Vancouver, has been re-elected president of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists, at the annual meeting held in Ottawa.

Some time will elapse, it is expected before the official count can be announced in the recent referendum in Ontario.

When a farmer is drilling a well for drinking water it must make him hopping mad to run into a great deposit of oil.

The Sunday School teacher was rather a careless chap. Said he to his class:

"Now, boys, what would happen to me when I die if I had had life?"

"The fat would be in the fire" replied one boy, after some reflection.

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavener is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

Made in Canada

The Demand for Uniformity

In this very practical age there is a widespread demand for the adoption of uniform methods in business, uniform systems of currency and weights and measures uniform even in relation to many subjects, even a uniform language, and some people would have a uniform and simplified calendar, a uniform church while the extremists in the ranks of labor would have all men and women become servants of the state, with no private ownership of property. In a word, there is a growing tendency to standardize everything that can be standardized without giving much thought to the all-important question whether such standardization would ultimately prove to be of benefit to the human race.

In order to provide for quantity production, standardization is necessary. The war emphasized that truth. Furthermore, standardization makes for economy in manufacture. Hardly anyone will deny that if it were possible to standardize all makes of agricultural machinery, with all parts interchangeable, it would mean an enormous saving in time, labor and money. And what is true in regard to implements of agricultural production is really true in many other lines.

Efforts which have been put forth in recent years in Canada to bring about a larger degree of uniformity in legislation are also along the right line. With a Federal Parliament and nine Provincial Legislatures all passing laws every twelve months, and in many instances all dealing with the same subject, the need for uniformity where it is at all possible is quite manifest if confusion is to be avoided and people enabled to have a clear understanding of the law. It is, therefore, gratifying to know that success is attending the efforts of those who are striving to bring about uniform insurance laws, uniform laws governing companies, a uniform divorce law, and so on. The various movements to establish throughout Canada uniform qualifications for doctors, lawyers, dentists, school teachers, etc., so that persons qualified in any of these professions in one Province will be eligible to follow them in another Province, are sane, sensible and economically and nationally wise.

There are, however, some demands for uniformity which should receive careful scrutiny and serious consideration before they are complied with. Take, for example, the agitation for a common language. In the first place it is a waste of time because it is impractical. People will not relinquish their mother tongue, and while it is right and proper that in an English-speaking country every child should be obliged to learn English, and the teaching of English in every school should be insisted upon, it is the height of folly to expect all people to abandon the use of their native tongue. And to endeavor to provide a universal language for the world, whether it be English, or French, or Latin, or Esperanto, is futile. But even if it could be accomplished, would not the human race be the loser through such uniformity and the elimination of all the beauties of expression of which every language has its share? Even admitting the practical advantages of a universal language, would not the losses resulting therefrom more than offset the practical advantages gained?

Then there are those who would have the metric or decimal system of weights, measures and coinage adopted all over the world. Others would reform the calendar and provide for a year of thirteen months, each containing exactly four weeks, so that any given date would always fall on the same day of the week; that is, if the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd of January were Sunday, so, too, would the same dates in all the other months fall on Sunday, and what would be true of Sunday would be likewise true of every other day in the week. These changes would, of course, have their advantages, but in view of the tremendous upheaval they would work in so many ways, their adoption is very remote. Little is to be gained, therefore, in wasting time over them.

But wherever it is possible to bring it about there should be uniformity in legislation within Canada. Such uniformity will tend to unify our people; it will have a tendency to develop that national spirit of which this Dominion stands so greatly in need. Quite as much as a protective tariff it will assist to develop interprovincial trade and enable Canadian industry and financial institutions to do a successful business in Canada. The three Prairie Provinces of the West have advanced along this line to a far greater extent than the rest of Canada, and their example may well be followed by the other Provinces, and also further developed here in the West.

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which sweetens the stomach and regulates the bowels, thus bringing relief in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fever. Concerning them Mrs. L. J. Chaisson, Esquimaux, N.B., writes—"I have found Baby's Own Tablets excellent for my young baby in the case of constipation and colic and it gives me great pleasure to recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

They do their work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

Forty-five Bushels to the Acre on the Indian Reserves.

The value of the crop now being taken off the Government Greater Production Farms is estimated at $2,500,000 by officials of the department of Indian affairs here. It is stated that the wheat on the Alberta farms is running forty-five bushels to the acre and is grading No. 1. Fifteen cars have been moved east. The wheat is being threshed at the rate of 20,000 bushels a day by ten outfits. One hundred thousand bushels of the estimated 500,000 bushel crop has been threshed.

The year's profits will be well over $1,000,000.

Moving Pictures of Livestock Industry

Pathe Corporation Is Working In Conjunction With Grain Growers' Association.

Manor, Sask., is the scene of the initial chapters of a film story which is being prepared by the Pathe Film Corporation, which will show the working of the cattle industry from producer to market.

The film is being made by arrangement with the Grain Growers' Association, and shows the cattle on the farm of Chris Jacobi, followed by a scene of a large shipment being collected and loaded on the cars at the Manor stockyards and thence to the Winnipeg market.

On completion the film will be shown extensively throughout the west, and it is expected to show the western farmer in a way that could not otherwise be done, why some cattle are sold at a loss, and how to get the best results in marketing livestock.

To Increase Membership

Knights of Pythias Reducing Minimum Age Limit to Eighteen Years.

In conformity with its general program of policy of expansion by which it is proposed to carry the principles of the order into new fields of Pythian endeavor, the Knights of Pythias at the recent national convention of its Supreme Lodge at Minneapolis adopted an amendment to its organic law reducing the minimum age limit to 18 years. Since the order was founded, membership has been restricted to white male persons not less than 21 years of age and under 50, except that persons over 50 might be accepted as members by dispensations. But out of the great World War many lessons came of a nature calculated to change the old order of things.

Inspired by thoughts of service performed and sacrifices made by the boys of the land and being deeply sensible to the conviction that if a boy of 18 years is man enough, strong enough and patriotic enough to serve his country in time of war, he is competent physically, mentally and temperamentally to participate in the settlement of the problems of peace that came to us as a heritage of the war in which he fought.

The Knights of Pythias have invited boys and men of 18 years and over to enlist under the tricolor banner of Pythian citizenship in the movement designed to banish discontent and discord and make the world brighter and happier.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly, Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ill from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weakness with which all mankind is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvelous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butter-nut every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

Does Education Fail to Educate?

A dramatic after-dinner speech, made at a London dinner on the failure of education to educate is the subject of an article in the Teachers' World. About a hundred and fifty students, who had just received their degrees, met for a farewell dinner. By way of a joke they asked a certain professor who had never made an address in his life, to address them. To their surprise he accepted, and he made a hit.

"Gentlemen," he began, "I never made a speech in my life, and I don't intend to begin now. I have some things to say however, and in saying it I will follow Luther's threefold rule: 'Stand up straightly, speak out boldly, and sit down quickly.'"

"We are in one of the famous banqueting halls of the world. I believe that the hall compared to this is a lodging on the third floor back. No such art existed in these days, as we see around this room. No such viands graced his board. What was there was elegant for that day, but we live in another age, an age of art, artcraftsmanship and luxury. From the four corners of the earth came the things on this table. From the lowest forms of day labor to the highest forms of art we have around us samples of at least a hundred forms of human work.

"Let me draw your attention to the samples of pottery here. Surely the men and women who produce such beautiful things are artists. What a joy it must be for a man to hold such a thing in his hand—complete—and say, 'I made it!' Many forms of labor are involved here, also—the painting, burning, baking and finishing. If there is a man here who has ever touched this form of labor, let him answer. No one!

"There are samples of the most exquisite, and, I know, costly, cut glass. That also involves much labor, or great art. It is an unique industry in itself. I will not detail the process we see the result, but the various forms of labor involved are practically unknown to us. I would be rather surprised to find a man among you who has ever touched this industry at any angle."

"There are cut flowers here," he said. "Most of you spent some years in the study of botany, but I don't think any of you would undertake to give us a complete classification of what we see and enjoy on the table. There was a disposition to laugh, but he wiped the smile from every face around the table by quietly saying, 'Perhaps you are to be congratulated that you are at an age when a sense of humor covers a multitude of sins, but personally I cannot enjoy that which gives me pain.'

"I am a representative university man, seriously asking myself and you whether the system we call education educates?" The silence became oppressive. The men were thinking. "Perhaps," he continued, "I should have put you more at your ease by telling you all at the beginning that I have never experienced the joy of fashioning articles with my own hands. Nor anything useful for that matter. Here we are, then, a group of men of whom a university has set its stamp. We produce nothing useful, we could not even lend a hand in the making of anything we see around us, and truth compels me to venture the suggestion that in ninety nine cases out of a hundred the chief motive of a college education is to escape actual participation in just such work as gives or ought to give joy to the worker.

"A timekeeper performs a useful function, so does a bank robber, but the function of education is not to turn out timekeepers or cash registers. A statement of the problem is not a solution, and we do not gain much by stating that the system is to blame and we are not.

"You certainly are not to blame. You are the victims of whatever system we have. I cannot say that I am blameless. I do not believe that a smattering of languages, of mathematics, and history is education. I believe the system of cramming these things to pass an examination is pernicious. So having been asked for the first time in my life to make an address, I made it an opportunity to enter my protest.

"Education is to prepare and equip for the duties and responsibilities of life—not to turn out industrial and commercial bosses, gaffers, timekeepers and cash registers. I would hardly be justified in taking up your time with these observations alone. So, in addition, I want to say this: Most of you are destined to be masters of men. You will organize and mobilize their labor, you will oversee it.

"When you see men around you actually creating beautiful things with their hands, I would like you to remember that it was my opinion that actual labor in the arts and crafts and industries is an infinitely nobler contribution to the happiness of mankind than clipping coupons and living on the sweat of other men's hands.

"It will not come in my day, but the world will ultimately come to understand that the training of the mind is as necessary as the training of the body. Why should it be an unthinkable thing that a blacksmith or a carpenter should need an education? Why should college men consider it degrading to handle tools that make moral and beautiful things?"

"Why should a university perpetuate such a revolt against Nature, in which the man who does no useful work at all is considered a gentleman and the creator of wealth and heart-felt things should be considered lowly, in Anglo-Saxon civilization?"

"I want to point out to you that the highest form of culture and refinement known to mankind was intimately associated with tools and labor. In order to do that I must present you a picture, imaginative, but in accord with the facts of history and experience."

"He pushed his chair back, and stood a few feet from the table. His face betrayed deep emotion. His voice became wonderfully soft and irresistibly appealing. The college men had been interested; they were now spellbound. He raised his hand, and went through the motions of drawing a card.

"Gentlemen," he said, "may I introduce to you a young Galilean who is a master builder—Jesus of Nazareth."

"It was a weird act. The silence became oppressive. As if addressing an actual person of flesh and blood he continued:—

"Master, may I ask you, as I asked these young men, whether there is anything in this room that you could make with your own hands as other men make them?"

"There was a pause, a brief moment of silence with the slow movement of an Oriental he went to the end of the table, and took the table cloth in his hand, and made bare the corner and carved oak leg of the great table. In that position he looked into the faces of the men and said: 'The Master says, 'Yes, I could make the table—I am a Carpenter.'"

More Talk on the Road

So Bill turned into Adshenda garage to have his car overhauled and just two weeks after, he saw Jim. "Hello Bill," said Jim. "Did you run your car into Adshenda garage?"

"You bet I did."

"Well did they do a good job of it?"

"Say just listen how she purrs. Like mine old cat, Jim. Of course, time will tell, but if she goes on as she has begun it's as good as the best job ever done on the old bug and what's more Jim, they told me they'd stand back of their work."

"And so they will, Bill. They've got to."

"Did they soak you Bill?"

"Just the ordinary charges, Jim, and I'm quite satisfied, but I guess I'm up against it now Jim."

"How's that Bill?"

"Why my batteries are run down and I shall have to send them to Calgary to get them re-charged, and then there will be express each way besides the time waiting."

"Why Bill, didn't you know they had a full line, apparatus for charging

CUTICURA HEALS RASH ON CHILD

On Body and Face, Red and Itchy, Cried For Hours, Lasted a Year.

"A rash started all over my little girl's body, and she had some on her face. It started in a pimple that was full of water, and it got red and itchy. She cried for hours. This trouble lasted a year.

"Well, my putting that mill there might have been the daff of my all right," he said. "But, had you haven't told me why you came to meet me with the Indians."

"Yes, sir; it was this way. A man from the village was chased by this fox pack last night. He told me at the stable's tonight and I told me I came out a ways and listened for a time, and when I heard him say I let the fox have loose, thinking as you 'd not mind my doing it under the circumstances, sir."

"You did just right, lad," said Hal-butt. "But did you bring their leaders, Dick?"

"Hidid ere in my saddle box, sir." "Well, you'd better let 'em up here they happen on an Indian. This country is getting so full of Indians as becoming more valuable every day."

Dick chuckled.

"They do him Indians an' mizzers, sir, an', sir, that's right, me, there's an old Indian from the Point by the name of Noah. Starvation will be at 'em place to see you, sir."

The Colonel but his brow. "Starvation," he repeated. "Noah Starvation—don't think I ever heard of him—"

"Your horse, sir," questioned Dick, looking about him.

"Never mind about my horse—I'm going to ride you. You follow me and keep a tight rein on the lemons. I don't want that old Indian to get even up."

They passed on down the black trail, and the spot that had witnessed the struggle between the fox and the man, and the starting point of the trail, grew silent again with a green and oppressive silence. Only the fox bark branches of the trees did it under the red sky that shimmered fitfully over the night. The clouds came from the sky now down and below the forest fringes, then the white stars came out and rested, looking down on the fire-light.

They sat right down the open and fell across the rounded forms of the dead things that lay round the forest. CHAPTER XXII Injun Noah.

The cold dawn was stealing across the lake when Colonel Halbutt rode into his yard and dismounting, turned the horse over to Dick. The hounds leaped and fawned upon him and he sternly commanded them to keep down. He led them through the door into the great kennel yards and there arose a bedlam of glad yelps and growls of rage, as some favorite was petted or felt the fangs of jealousy of a stronger fellow. The master played the whip among them, laughing and shouting.

"Oh, you beauty!—Black Dan, you braver of the devil. Poor old Jeph; come on, pup, and let me pat your old side; poor old Jeph, noble old Jeph. Weren't in the fight last night, were you? Too old, boy; too old and stiff. Every dog has his day, Jeph, and every man, too. Egan, boy, I thought for a while last night that mine was over."

The old hound laid his wrinkled chin in his master's hand and gazed up at him with age-wedged eyes. Stocks of the younger dogs of the pack retreated snarling, with bristles erect, and lying down a short distance away, beyond the words received in the night's encounter. Halbutt walked across to a wide, low building and unlocked the door.

"In there, all of you," he shouted; and the dogs sprang toward the door. Old Jeph came last, limping painfully, his whole attitude one of grief.

"Not you, old fellow," said the man; "you can stay out, and you'd best hang close to me."

He shrugged his broad shoulders, and with the old favorite following, crossed the yard and entered the stables. Dick was cleaning out the stalls of the old hound had just ridden in. He looked up as his master entered, then went on with his work. Halbutt followed him, frowning, then going over to the sideboard, glanced along the array of bottles there. He picked up a glass and sniffed it.

"Have you been sampling of any of these bottles, he asked sternly. "Noah no drink until he speak. Noah know her," pointing to the portrait. "Noah take her, were papose many day journey. stand. It's a long way to the Point? The Indian's eyes were fastened upon the portrait hanging on the wall. They did not leave it as he spoke.

"Much," he said. "Very much, Noah wish to speak of Bushwhacker. You leave Bushwhacker there; no touch. You know Bushwhacker girl—Gloss—you know, Noah."

He pointed toward the portrait. It was that of a young girl with glorious long-lashed eyes and smiling Dobe. Halbutt followed him, frowning, then going over to the sideboard, glanced along the array of bottles there. He picked up a glass and sniffed it.

Every Man Should Endeavor to Own His Own Home.

Those newcomers entering our town and making this their home have one sincere sympathy in looking for a home they seek in vain. By a home we mean a real home, one fit to live in and that gives a sense and feeling of satisfaction.

The shortage of homes while a serious matter, yet it is one of encouragement to the newcomer. It shows progressiveness, it points out that by building he will have a far readier sale for his own home if he desires to move. It indicates a demand, and a demand in a case of this kind is better than an overplus.

Good Wheat Yield In Saskatchewan

No Failures Reported on Well Cultivated Land.

Notwithstanding the rains since crops were cut and the hold-up of threshing for ten days, grain threshing in the Moose Jaw and Swift Current districts, and all Southwestern Saskatchewan is grading No. 1 Northern, says the Saskatchewan Farmer. The straw is colored but the grain is in perfect condition, weighing over 60 pounds to the bushel. The yield of wheat is reported in most cases as better than expected. Where the yield is light, farmers invariably give the reason as "poor cultivation." There are no failures on summer fallows well cultivated and free from weeds. The yield on such fields is above the average.

FREIGHT RATES CASE ARGUED AT OTTAWA

THE QUESTION IS RAISED OF ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION

Eastern and Western Interests Both
Want Freight Rates
Modified.

Ottawa.—Introduction of the question of alleged discrimination in freight rates between the East and West in the argument before the Government on the appeal from the railway commission, presents to some degree a new phase of the question, and there was some reason to anticipate that the case will be referred back to the commission.

In the judgment of the board, this question was gone into exhaustively. In the argument now in progress here, it proves to be a very vital element in the case with a rather curious conflict between different parties on the same side. It is not improbable that the case will be referred back to enable the question of discrimination to be looked into, the railways contending that it does not exist, the western counsel holding that it does and part of counsel for eastern interests contending that it should obtain anyway. The way out may prove to be a re-hearing before the board, thus relieving the Government of the responsibility of raising the increase and also of the distasteful process of overruling the commission which is a very rare occurrence, if the 1917 case can be regarded as a precedent. Should there be a re-hearing the increased rates meanwhile will remain in force.

While a variety of interests are lined up against the railway rates increase and ask the Government to disallow it, the attack is more urgent and rather conflicting angles. It is the old question of east and west. The railways seek a sharp increase in rates and they have got it from the tribunal which exercises jurisdiction over them. Provincial, municipal and commercial bodies are engaged in the appeal that seeks redress from the Government, but while the west wants rates determined in one way, the east wants it done another way. There is a variety of views and a variety of issues raised and this fact caused Sir James Louchdale to suggest that the appellants get together and determine just what points they desire the Government to pronounce upon.

Both the eastern and western interests, on principle, oppose the increased rates, and want them modified but, while counsel for the western provinces urge that all parts of the country be on a parity in respect to rates, A. C. McMaster, for the Toronto Board of Trade, in today's argument, held out strongly for the maintenance of the present system, whereby rates east of the lakes are lower than these in the west. His contention was that, without this difference, the eastern manufacturer would be shut out of the western market which would be opened to American competition. It is apparent that the lot of the Government will not be an easy one in developing such a modus operandi as will suit the various and conflicting interests and concurrently minister to needs of the supposedly embarrassed utility.

Manitoba has sent down a clever advocate, in H. F. Symington, whose address in opposition to the rate increase was easily the most elaborate. Another notable point was that the case must be decided on the necessities of the Canadian Pacific, and that it had not been shown that that company needed assistance. Admitting that assistance is necessary, it should not be granted till the disparity between the east and west is received. Another notable point was that the rates should depend on the services rendered and this was linked up with the contention that operating costs on the west are lower, revenues higher and traffic denser, hence rates should at least be the same as in the east.

To Adopt Manitoba Plan

Disfranchisement Will Fight Sow
Thistle in Manitoba.

St. Paul, Minn.—The plan successfully used in Manitoba—that of having district agents—to fight the menace of the sow thistle is advocated for the Northwestern part of Minnesota by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who says that the thistle situation is becoming serious in that district.

Mr. Hay urges that a plan of having county agents, plan campaigns to eradicate the evil be worked out.

Complain About Car Shortage

C.N.R. Promise to Take Steps to Relieve Situation.

Winnipeg.—Steps will be taken to relieve the car shortage in Northern Manitoba on Canadian National lines, it was announced by A. E. Warren, general manager, following an interview with J. L. Brown, Pilot Mount, president of the United Farmers of Manitoba. Mr. Brown complained of the situation to the Board of Railway Commissioners here.

New Steamship Service Planned.

Victoria, B.C.—The British Columbia Coast Steamship Service has under consideration a round-the-island weekly service, as an attraction to tourists next summer. The plan calls for the operation of the Princess Magdalen around Vancouver Island from Victoria. The boat goes as far as Quatsino Sound. Under the new scheme, she would round the end of the island and come down the inside, touching at points en route, going to Vancouver and then returning here.

1920 Wheat Reaches Montreal
Harbor.

Montreal.—The first of the 1920 grain crop of Canada has just reached Montreal harbor. It was received at the headquarters of the Canadian Steamship lines that the Midland King, with over 200,000 bushels of 1920 wheat, had already unloaded its cargo at Port Colborne, from whence it is being transferred to Montreal.

Younger Mennonites Going to Quebec.

Quebec.—The younger Mennonites of Manitoba, who were at first unwilling to decide to leave that province with other members of their sect, on account of the educational restrictions, have now informed the Quebec Government that a delegation will be sent to the Abitibi region with a view to selecting land to migrate to.

CANNOT AFFORD TO BE NEUTRAL IN POLITICS

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
SPEAKS AT VANCOUVER.

Liberal Leader Says That This Is a Moment of Transition in Political Conditions.

Vancouver, B.C.—Before a great audience here which gave Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his colleagues a most enthusiastic reception and hearing, the leader of the Liberal party, addressing the second meeting of his tour of the western provinces, laid special emphasis on the fundamental difference in attitude, methods and outlook between the party in office at Ottawa and that of the Liberal party. This is a moment of transition in social and political conditions which will go far to determine the whole future trend of Canada's destiny as a nation, and no man or woman, the Liberal chief declared, can afford to be neutral in his or her political allegiance. The choice, he said, is between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who are reactionary. He said that in these days of readjustment, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs, that since the election of 1911, there had been no occasion on which the people of Canada as a whole had had an opportunity of hearing national leaders discuss with reference to these problems which are primarily of domestic concern.

Hon. Mr. King discussed the leading questions of the day, the cost of living and the tariff, declaring that what is wanted is not taking of evidence but immediate reduction in prices of necessities of life. In regard to the high cost of living, Mr. King said, this country had left the people in the dark taxation, and what he declared was the extravagant expense of the Government in the matter of civil service appointments and commissions, had played their part in this direction.

The excuse of war expenditure was being worn out, but the real explanation is that proper steps have never been taken to meet the conditions. Other governments, he declared, were all taking these matters into consideration, but the present Canadian Government still seems dilatory.

Dealing more particularly with the fundamental differences in attitude, methods and outlook between the party in power at Ottawa, and that of the party which they represent, Mr. King said that these were days of new alignments in social and political orders all over the world, and that the Liberal party was in the forefront of this movement.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, But It Proves the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bethel, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. Then Mrs. W. J. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to my aid. I took it, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and to all women."—Mrs. W. J. Brady, R. R. 2, Bethel, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's life is because it contains the best, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

that throughout the period of the war, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs.

A body of voters, so large as to constitute an entirely new electorate had come to the fore, the young men between the ages of 20 and 30 and the women voters. It would be found that irrespective of the names by which they may be called, the choice of the electorate lies today, as in the past, between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who resist order between those who are progressive and those who are reactionary; between those who are prepared to trust the people and assist them in their struggle for a wider freedom, social, economical, fiscal and political, and those who mistrust the people and are more concerned in keeping intact the strongholds of privilege, than in widening the opportunity to the many who constitute the great citizenry of the nation.

Grain Tie-Up Benefits Farmers

C.P.R. Pays Advance of Four Cents Per Bushel.

Regina.—The tie-up of grain transportation on the Canadian National lines is resulting in a benefit to farmers, maintaining grain on Canadian Pacific railway points of four cents a bushel.

Instructions have been issued by the line elevators to all agents at Canadian Pacific railway points to pay the farmers an advance of four cents a bushel over list prices. This arrangement does not include the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. This step has been taken to "speed up" shipments to the head of the Great Lakes.

Poland Receiving Allied Help.

London.—A wireless dispatch from Moscow says that Poland has received large supplies from the allies through Danzig. England, the message declares, sent seven steamers loaded with munitions and three tanks and 12 small vessels with provisions, while the United States sent ships with volunteers. From France, two ships arrived with more than one thousand infantry and 15 tanks, the message says.

APPOINTMENT OF MINISTER TO U.S. IS POSTPONED

SUSPEND PLAN FOR CANADIAN MINISTER AT WASHINGTON.

Matter Will Be Left in the Hands of Sir Auckland Geddes to Decide.

Washington.—Appointment of a special Canadian minister plenipotentiary to the United States is understood to have been indefinitely postponed. Canada's interests in the United States thus will be left in the hands of the Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who, because of his long residence in the Dominion, is regarded by the Canadians as having full personal knowledge of the aims and needs of the country.

Steps, looking to the appointment of a Canadian minister, were at first taken some months ago, the Canadians feeling that because of the urgency in rebuilding the trade and economic relations between the two countries were pressing need for direct action on the part of Canada in Washington.

The British Government actually assisted in an appointment being made, and estimates were passed, covering such expenditures on Canadian behalf. The plan to establish a separate Canadian minister in Washington has been suspended, however, at least in execution.

An element which has been considered in connection with direct Canadian representation in Washington is that Australia, South Africa and other British colonies and dominions might desire such representation, in fact, there was a movement in some of the dominions for such representation, and the British Foreign Office was said to have taken the view that inefficiency might result from having several Dominion ministers in the United States.

What Germany Has to Pay, and How

ULTIMATUM TO BE SENT MAY 6TH,
MUST BE ACCEPTED FEW DAYS LATER.

London, May 3.—The supreme council reached a complete agreement this afternoon on the substance of the ultimatum to be sent to Germany by the reparations commission not later than May 6th. The ultimatum expires six days later.

The drafting committee is busy tonight completing the document which will be finally passed at another meeting of the council tomorrow and then handed to the reparations commission which has been called from Paris, and which will forward the ultimatum to the allies to Berlin, in accordance with the treaty of Versailles. The total sum which Germany has been called upon to pay has been increased to £6,750,000,000, by the inclusion of the sum due Belgium on account of her debts to the allies under the bonding scheme to guarantee the payment of £100,000,000 annually, plus 25 per cent tax on German exports, £400,000,000 in bonds will be issued when the ultimatum expires or Germany accepts the terms.

Bonds to the amount of £1,500,000,000 will be issued in November. The balance, £4,250,000,000, will be issued in accordance with Germany's capacity to pay. That capacity will be gauged by the product of 25 per cent on exports.

A Sinking Fund

Besides the 5 per cent interest on the bonds, an additional 1 per cent will be imposed on them to form a sinking fund. The amount required for service bonds will be thus £2,500,000,000.

Should the £100,000,000 annuity and 25 per cent on German exports amount to more than the £150,000,000 required as interest on service bonds, to be issued immediately in November, a sufficient amount of the remaining bonds held in reserve will be automatically issued in order to absorb the balance.

There will also be an additional 1 per cent on German exports for the purpose of providing a fund in reserve. Interest on any bonds paid off will continue for the purpose of the sinking fund. It is calculated that these bonds will be redeemed within thirty-seven years from date of issue.

In no case, according to the scheme, will Germany be paying more than 5 per cent interest and 1 per cent sinking fund on the total debt of £6,750,000,000. These amounts are to be a charge on German customs or any other revenues that the reparations commission is prepared to accept. The reparations commission will receive the bonds and apportion them among the allies in accordance with the Bruggs agreement. Each power will dispose of them or hold them as it pleases.

U.S. Invited to Supreme Council

London, May 3rd.—The allied supreme council decided today to invite the United States to send a representative as a member of the supreme council, and also to be represented on the reparations committee and the council of ambassadors.

ROD & GUN

Among the other interesting stories and articles of outdoor life in Canada that appear in Rod and Gun in Canada for May, is one entitled "A Wonderful Salmon Expedition." It describes an expedition after the "big fellows" in New Poundland. For the fishermen there are two other stories: "Falling From Grace" and "The Heart Curve" in this issue of Canada's outdoor magazine. "Hunting the Black Duck" and "The Parson Goes Hunting" as the titles indicate, are hunting stories that will appeal to the devotee of rifle and shot gun. Great interest is being shown in the big game hunting article written by A. Bryon Williams: one installment of his splendid series of articles appears in this issue. Fishing Notes and Guns and Ammunition Department, as well as the other departments are up to their usual high standards. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Less Troublesome Adjustments

As a rule the adjustment you get on a defective tire, doesn't quite satisfy you. Mainly, we suppose, because we are all human and want a little more than we are entitled to.

But even our most private opinions on the fairness of an adjustment, can find no fault with the method of settling claims on Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes."

You are always right with ourselves and the municipality. We personally look after your interest—no red-tape delay or argument about recovery of responsibility and your compensation. Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" are guaranteed against any defect in material or workmanship without time or mileage limit. They are adjusted on this basis without quibble or evasion.

Advertise Where Your Customers Are

It seems elementary that sales energy should be concentrated in this district where the goods you have to sell are purchased.

THE PIONEER offers you 1200 good reliable readers in this vicinity that are willing and do buy immense quantities of merchandise. They have been educated to buy from those firms that are not afraid to quote their merchandise through advertisements and you can't hold them responsible for doing business with firms who are progressive enough to use the force of publicity. Be honest, tell the truth and your advertisement in the PIONEER will bring you business, too.

To get our rates all you have to do is ask.

Do it today, or telephone No. 12 and a representative will call.

Money Will Not Buy a Better Paper

THE man of wealth can buy a better car, wear better clothes, eat better food, live in a better house, than those without means. But he cannot buy a better newspaper. Even if he would spend $50, $100, or $1000 a day—if he lived in the territory covered by The Calgary Herald, he could not buy a paper that would serve his needs better than you can for 22.3c a day.

In Buying Newspapers All Men Are Equal

THE price of newspapers is the same, or nearly so, regardless of the value they offer—so you should see that you get the best when the best costs no more. In The Calgary Herald you get a paper that averages from 15 to 36 pages—you get all the news first, and it's dependable. You get a variety and a wealth of special articles, departments and features that are equalled by but few papers in the Dominion. The Herald offers the greatest newspaper value you can buy—and, as for the past 37 years, it will serve you best.

Money Cannot Buy Better.

Mr. M. Weber, of the Better Way Poultry Yards, again states that the hen which we reported as laying two eggs a day a short time ago, repeated the performance again on Saturday and Sunday and has not missed laying either before or since. This hen surely deserves some credit for her efforts in trying to increase production instead of decreasing.
